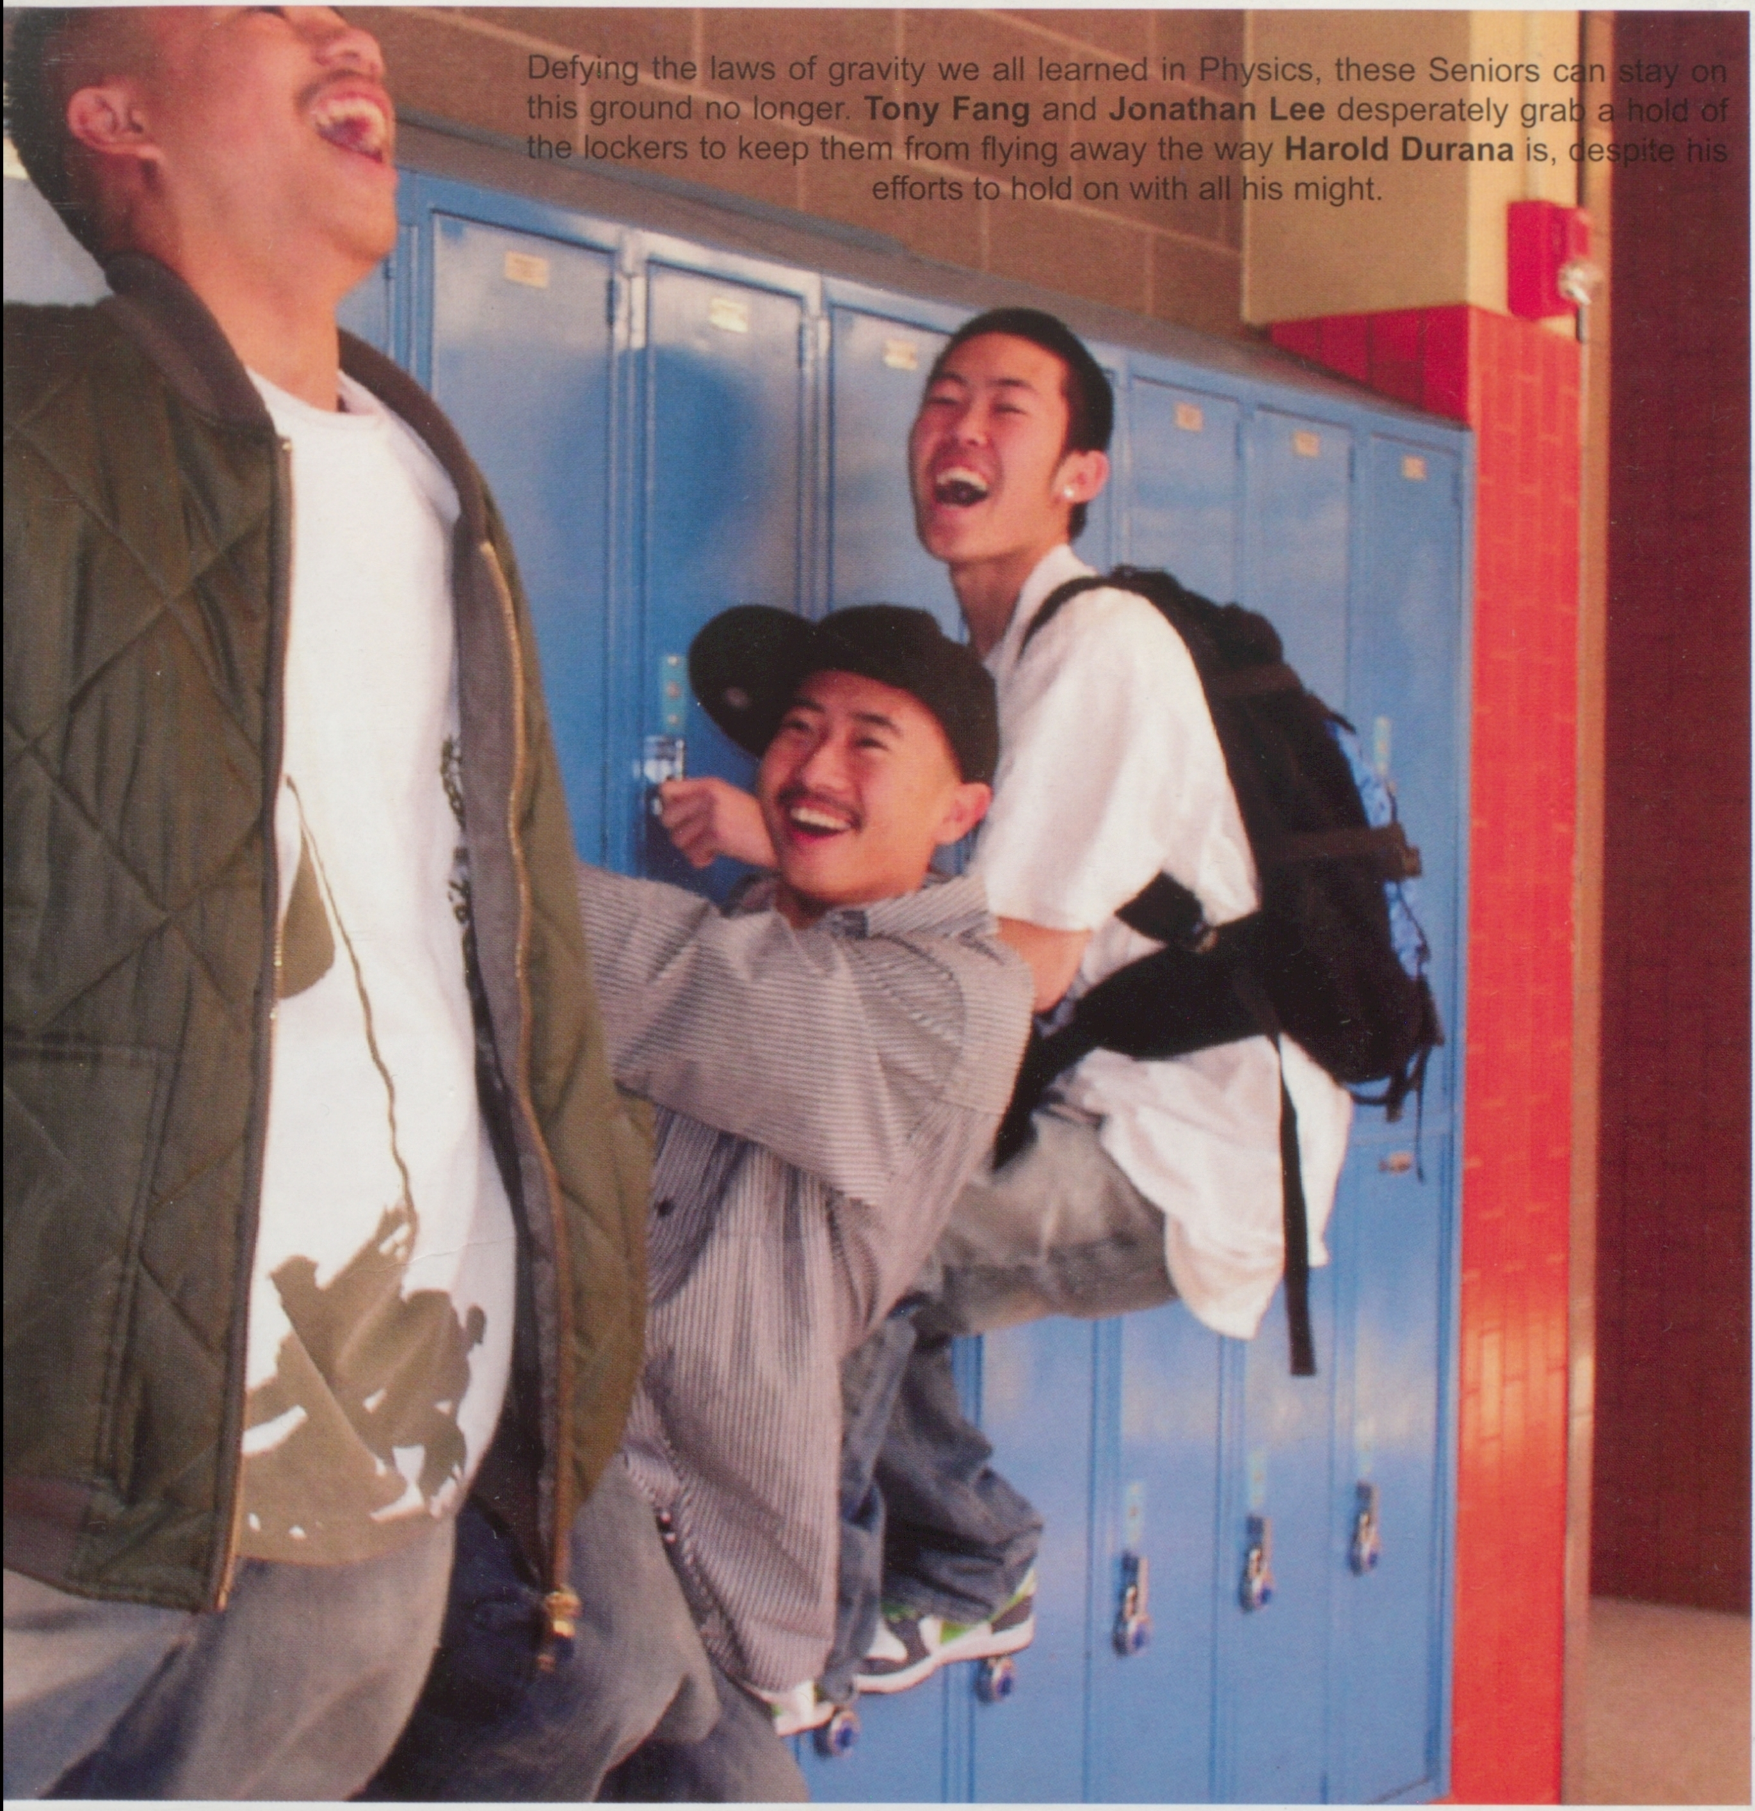
The Alameda High School Hornets have always been a "can-do" crew. We are determined, hard-working, creative, and enthusiastic, excelling in a wide spectrum of activities. We Hornets are ABLE to get into great universities and colleges, put on amazing musicals, rule the field/court/links/pool in our sports, dance with soul, cherish our diversity, hold down jobs, speak many different lauguages, and most important of all, be good friends to each other. 2004-2005's yearabook is a celebration of just how capABLE we Hornets are.

DEFINEABLE



Defying the laws of gravity we all learned in Physics, these Seniors can stay on this ground no longer. Tony Fang and Jonathan Lee desperately grab a hold of the lockers to keep them from flying away the way Harold Durana is, despite his efforts to hold on with all his might.

With the sound of microwaves whirring in the corner, Chris Frasier works diligently at the Hive's cash register during break, taking money from hungry customers.

...The year that everyone waits for. The reason we have endured the last 12 years of school. Senior year is finally here and gone. Reminisce on the months and weeks that we could have spent preparing for the SAT? The stress of school is pretty much over, since we already know which colleges we are going to, and Senioritis has kicked in. Our years as students in the home we call the public school system are over, and it is finally time to step out into the big, real world, without a hand to hold. Even though we say we do not like going to school, those precious few days before graduation will be the last of the time we will ever be high school students. At least within these pages we can look back and reminisce on those memorable moments we had before one of the biggest days of our lives: graduation.

A night that we will never forget . . . sailing across the bay creating an ocean of memories!

① Group Hug

③ Sparkling Smiles of the Night

Hysterically Amusing ④

Cynthia Smuzynska laughing hysterically at how amusing it is to be dancing while rocking to and fro on such a magnificent ship.

⑤ Cooling Down

6 Diamonds in the Rough

Storm Creators 7

9 Midnight Blue Seductive

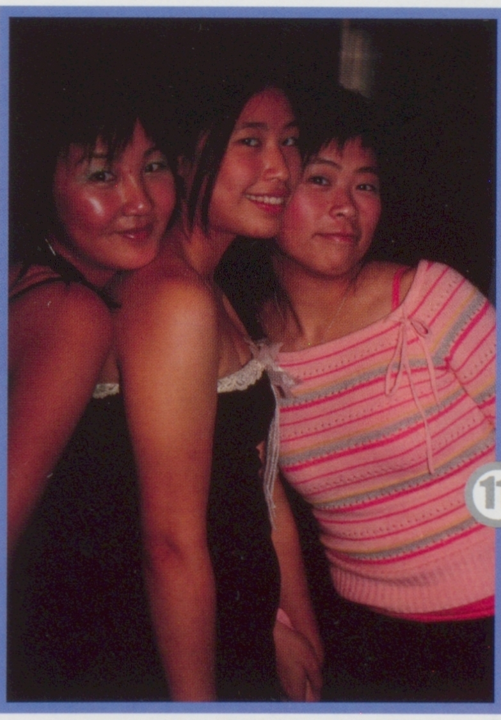
Heather Deering, looking as fetching as ever in her midnight blue dress, smiles at one of AHS's handsome Senior gentlemen aboard The Galaxy.

Too Much Dancing 9

Kelly Copeland and her friends are showing signs of being worn out from excessive dancing.

Curious Seniors 10

The Seniors of '05 wait in anticipation to find out who won the Senior Bests.



11 Three Beautiful Porcelain Dolls

STUDENT LIFE

enjoyable

What is the best way to spend a Saturday afternoon? Where do you find the best food during break? What is the best music around right now? What are the hottest fashions? Who better to ask than the students themselves? Alameda prides itself in being a really diverse school. With so many people, there are going to be many answers to the above-stated questions, and our mission is to get an answer from someone in each group of individuals. Since technology is getting better and better, there are always new things out there: places to go, people to see, things to buy, you know the deal. If you can't let your hair down now, when will you be able to? Make your life as a high school student as enjoyable as possible!

SUNNY DAYS

Summer Vacation

Senior Jacqueline Sanchez lives a childhood-like dream while spending her summer birthday in Disney World.

Relaxing on an exciting cruise to Ensenada, Sophomore Nicole Louie and her family are all dressed up for a formal dinner.

Seniors Danielle Cooke and Kelly Idle put on their life vests for safety while enjoying their trip on an Alaskan Cruise.

Ms. Klinger's Vice-Principal Dr. Jo Worthington experienced paragliding at 10,000 ft. for her 80th b-day.

Freshman Westyn Scott is one of the lucky few to ever touch a kangaroo Down Under.

The women's varsity basketball team capture all the fun they had while at Lake Tahoe.

Thinking Spot

1. Juniors Ross Angle, Lisa Wilson, Megan Zerga, Jeni Becker Allie Price, Sophomores Marilyn Lazarga, and Freshmen Jimmy Youm and Ethan Mchugh use up their last bit of energy to fool around at the Oakland Airport after returning from a trip to Ireland, England and Wales.
2. Senior Allie Thur stands in front of the magnificent and breathtaking Brandenburger Tor in Germany.
3. Sophomore Ariana Mah, and a former AHS student, Jennifer Mah spend a little time pondering intently at the thinking spot in Vancouver Canada.

Daredevil Sophomore Mercedes Zapata loves the adrenaline rush of jumping off fifty foot high cliffs into the water.

What is the most memorable summer moment you had last year?

"When I threw Nicole Wong off the back of my jet ski and I had to save her because she was floating in the lake."

-Michaelia Baskerville, '05

"When we were jumping off cliffs into the water, my friend almost slipped off a cliff that is 50 feet high!! It was VERY scary!"

-Mercedes Zapata, '07

Seniors Jacqueline Caceres, Johana Campos and Junior Maurice Campos spend a summer day in the last remaining patch of snow in Tahoe.

Sophomores Leslie Gordon and Erin Sorensen have a bit of splashy fun while at a beach in San Diego.

Senior Valentina Wong got to experience walking down the amazingly beautiful 42nd street of NYC.

Sophomores Marisa Sum and Nicole Mendoza and Junior Jessica Woo went to yearbook camp together and met sensational dancers who imitated Madonna and Britney Spears!

Rachel Cortes and Marisa Sum

Talent Show

Senior Mario Flores, practices on his drum set during rehearsal for his band's ideal sound.

After long years of practicing the piano, Junior Jason Leong plays his most well-played masterpiece.

Juniors Hannah Hodel and Claire Onyett argue about how much money they owe each other in their comedic skit.

Freshman Momo Ishiguro warms up her vocal chords for her solo act with the help of Freshman Donny Landers. At the same time he is practicing his piece for Greek Pizza's cover of Stockholm Syndrome.

What inspires you to perform in the Talent Show?

"For the first two years of our band (Shackled Cheddar), we were not motivated enough to try out for the Talent Show. This year, we were determined to perform."

- Dan Wright, '05

"I've always performed and I'm always in Talent Shows. So I decided to make my "High School Debut". It's also fun!"

- Momo Ishiguro, '08

Freshmen Megan Pimental and Leena Richman work up a sweat dancing to Andre 3000's track.

Freshman Nina Dumas and older brother Darrell (Senior) sing their hearts out to an upbeat rock song by Muse. This was Greek Pizza's first performance.

Senior Nekkole Lewis recites one of her many inspirational and motivating poems called Break Away with powerful emotion that caught the crowd's attention

GOT SPIRIT?

Spirit/Officers

Bid-A-Date!

Right: Junior Nidal Hassen playfully strikes a pose and seems to enjoy the roaring crowd as he parades around in his wetsuit.

Left: Sophomore Louis Smith silently prays that someone will save him the embarrassment by bidding on him.

Hornet spirit has been around for many years, and is still going on strong. Each year, our Leadership spirit committee organizes specific events for our students to show their school spirit. Some activities that took place during this year were Twin Day, Class Color Day, Pajama Day, Student-Teacher Switch Day, Sport Day, Boy-Girl Switch Day, Music Day and many more. These spirit events bring our student body together and let out our enthusiasm.

Some of this year's Top Hits and Artist

This year, there were many new albums and artists that have excited fans of all genres. As for R&B, Usher's album, Confessions, and the tour following that was a highlight of 2004. Nelly released the duo, Sweat and Suit. The Game and 50 Cent's, How We Do, Snoop Dogg and Pharrell Williams', Let's Get Blown* and Mario's, Let Me Love You, were all smashing successes. Destiny's Child reunited and released an album, and the retiring Jay-Z went on tour with Linkin Park to create almost a new genre of music with Collision Course. Gwen Stefani even broke away from No Doubt and went solo on a new album. On the other side of the spectrum, Hoobastank's album, The Reason and as did Maroon 5's crooning in Songs About Jane appealed to alternative fans. Green Day's, American Idiot, was a wonderful followup to their previous albums. Bands like Yellowcard and The Killers broke out, and to top it all off, young artists such as Ashlee Simpson, Lindsay Lohan, and Hilary Duff released their own albums. Overall, the artists of this year have given us much to enjoy and with all the new technology, we are the ecstatic fans.

What is the most inspirational thing about being in music?

"I have always liked to sing ever since I was little. I think that singing in the choir with a lot of people is more fun than when you're alone, I have made a lot of friends being in choir for the last four years."
-Maya Cascarino, Senior

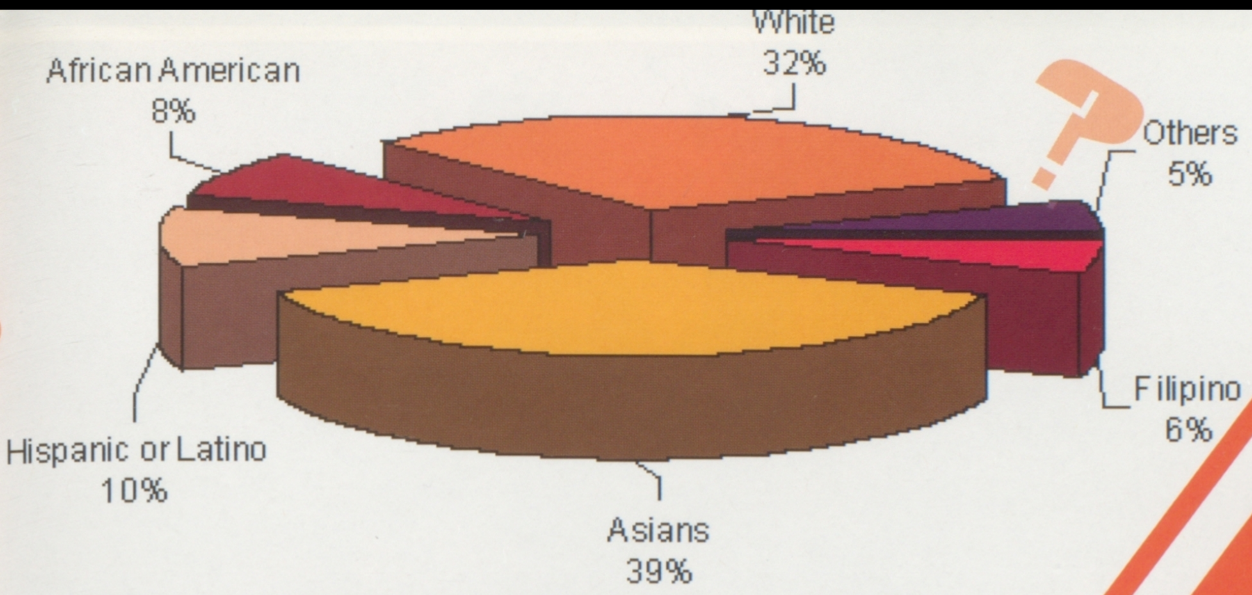
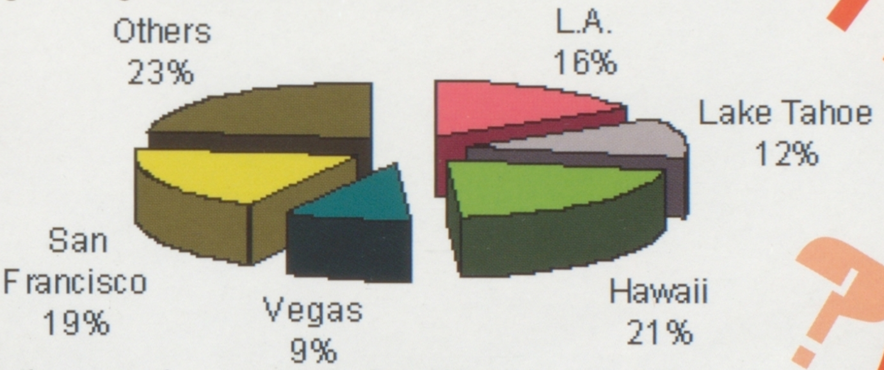
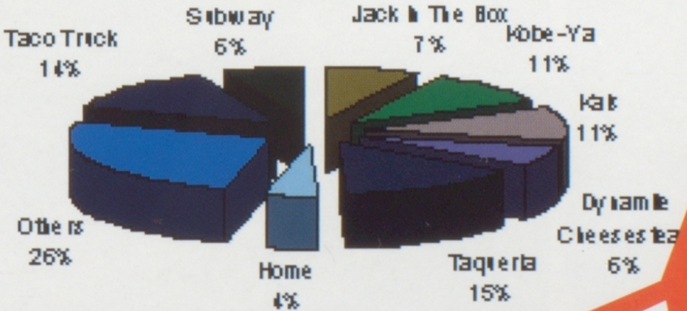
-Sophomores Kim Rambaud, Leslie Gordon, and Sarah Frankel



Alameda High is a very diverse school. We have people from all over the world to share with us their individual qualities that can't be seen anywhere else. It a good thing that we all get along in the land of the Hornets.



Vacation, vacation, vacaaaaaation. We all love to get out of town! It can put us in a different perspective of looking at our lives. Don't we just love going out of town?!?!



Short lunches haunt everyone of us in our sleep. But during this valuable time to grub, we walk as fast as we can to get to the delicious food places around so we can recharge and go back to our studies!

Taking notes from the overhead in math, Freshman Saleina Pedro keeps one eye on the teacher, while the other watches the clock, waiting for the period to end so she can hurry and meet to catch up with her friends in the hallway before her next class.

Alameda High's motto is "Always High Standards." We definitely can see why! With so many advanced classes available, it is pretty hard to not have high standards for the students of this extremely intelligent school. Students may choose difficult classes ranging from history to math, to all spectrums of the science scale. But school is not just about a tough courseload. Ever heard of tutoring as an elective? Well, for those who have a free sixth period, tutoring in AVID classrooms is an option. Some interesting classes that are also offered include Journalism, where students publish the school newspaper, and Careers with Children, which is a class where students get to work with small children at the daycare center at the school. Keep those grades up Hornets!

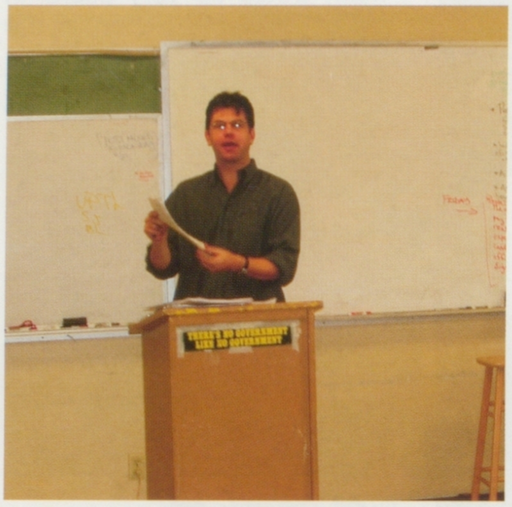
:HISTORY



Mr. Siltanan

Although it is not known to many people, history plays a crucial role in our lives; it affects the way we act, and is present whenever we make choices and decisions concerning our future. Alameda High School recognizes the importance of both history and government and for that reason, each student must complete a year of Modern World History, U.S. History, and Government/Economics. The wonderful teachers in the history department at Alameda High try to give students a better understanding of the classes they are taking by dedicating a day on just that subject. Sophomores taking Modern World History watch the dramatic film Schindler's List, Juniors learning U.S. History get the opportunity to speak to civil rights activists, and Seniors simulate government in the Mock Congress. "It is important for students to understand how the world works, so they can get involved and change things." (Mr. Siltanan)

As you run to catch those green double doors before the bell rings you think, "I hope I don't get locked out!" We all know what this class is. You know, the one with the tacky shirts and sweats... Yes, it's P.E. Remember those days when you had to shuffle your feet around the cones about a hundred times? Yes, we all do. But, P.E. is more than the quarterly tests and the smelly locker rooms. P.E. and Jujitsu brings us all together to something more than just sitting in a classroom where the farthest you can learn is but only the edge of your desk. P.E. and Jujitsu lets us have fun with our peers and expand our learning experience in a "physical" way with sports, keeping us in that incredible shape that we wish to be in.

Sra. Portugal

Why is Spanish important? "After English, Spanish is the language most spoken in California. It is important to learn Spanish because without knowledge of Spanish, one is limiting themselves from knowing and working with the people and culture of the largest ethnic group in California. There are so many exciting and fascinating aspects of Latino culture that one can take part in by speaking Spanish. The importance of being bi-lingual and multi-lingual is recognized by all educated people in the world and should be valued by everyone."

-Sra. Portugal

Madame Gutleben

Why is French important? "60% of English vocabulary comes from French. We learn much about our own language and increase our vocabulary. French is spoken on every continent in the world. The second largest French-speaking city in the world is in Canada (Montreal), our next door neighbor. France is our fourth largest trading partner world wide. (Wind River even has offices in Paris!) France is a cultural icon when it comes to food, wine, art, literature, fashion, architecture, cinema, etc., etc., etc. And of course, for the beauty of the language! Vive la France!"

Freshman, Aesia Woody listens very carefully while Sra. Castro gives her a few tips about how to comprehend the Spanish worksheet.

Who is your favorite teacher? Why?

"Madame Labarre because she is a very engaging and welcoming person. I've had her for four years as a student and I've learned a lot about the French culture."

-Senior, Jia-Jia Zhu

"Madame Gutleben because she's cool and energetic, like the energizer bunny."

-Freshman, Sean Ramsey

Freshmen, Cole Bryant and Zack Costa, take a quick laugh at a very funny picture they found in the French textbook.

What do you find interesting about this class?

"I think it's interesting when the teacher talks to us and discusses various topics."

-Junior, Stephanie Falzone

"I find the students very interesting because the class is so diverse, and the language brings us together."

Juniors, Sarah Kohgadai and Crystal Cortez, help each other out on a difficult Spanish assignment.

Sra. Olsen's classroom is decorated very nicely for Dia de Los Muertos (The Day of The Dead.)

Seniors, Pablo Vadillo and Eamon O'Connor listen carefully to a French story a classmate is telling.

Freshman, Kirsten Allen, carefully pours the crêpe batter into the hot steamy pan.

Sophomores, Stephanie Lim and Alex Koka decorate their delicious crêpes with fruits after making them.

Mr.Chacon

Drama is a class where students can express themselves in a different way by pretending to be a whole new person. Students are prepared to participate in the school plays, which takes a lot of effort and time. It allows students to expand their imagination to create a new and unique character. Almost anything that students have in mind is welcomed to show of their talent. Many of the plays have been a major accomplishment some include Little Shop of Horror, Grease and one of the most famous play around the world Romeo and Juliet.

We are able to have one of the most talented teachers in Alameda High who is willing to spend all of his time and effort to teach a class that is difficult and challenging to come up with a great play. As stated us by Mr. Chacon, " For never was a story of more woe/ than this of Juliet and her Romeo."

Ms. Milgrim - Art

FROM Da Vinci to Picasso, every great artist has to start somewhere, somehow. School has always been the haven for such artistic beginnings. As our school tries to allow the growth of every student to thrive in every aspect of their interests, Art plays a very important role in the development process. Interesting lessons are being taught here at A.H.S. by Ms. Milgrim. From paper masks to acrylic painting, everything they do brings the student closer to their artistic dreams!

Mr. Smeltzer's Interview with the yearbook.

Interviewer: What exactly is Media Academy?

Mr. Smeltzer: Media Academy is a program for students who want to take social studies and English together. Each class usually goes to the media center once a week.

Interviewer: How long have you been teaching in the Media Academy?

Mr. Smeltzer: This is my first year as the coordinator. However I have been teaching TV Media, and electives classes longer than I have been coordinator.

Interviewer: How do you think the Media Academy will help your students in the future?

Mr. Smeltzer: Well, I think all the future jobs need "computer literate" people. Also it is a way for the students to use technology to express themselves.

Interviewer: What are some of your favorite activities that occur in your classroom?

Mr. Smeltzer: Video editing, and animation

Interviewer: Do you consider this class a challenge for your students?

Mr. Smeltzer: Not if the students are willing to participate, work hard, and be creative.

Parts of the cast rehearse a skit for a TV Media assignment. Senior directors Rhonda Aburahma and Susan Oh calls out the number of the take to signal the start of the scene.

TV Media student Mario Flores and Mr. Hennessee act out an interview scene.

Senior Graham Mathews analyzes the scene as he directs the cast. He is the camera man and the director of this certain film.

Seniors Carrie Arth, Angie Patel and Jay Tarantino work diligently behind the scenes of a movie production for the TV media class.

Senior Mario Flores tells his friend Andrew Longoria, Senior, to move to a better camera angle.

What do you most enjoy about media academy? Instead of writing essays we deal with computer skills and powerpoints.
-Freshman Ben Ulrey

Media Academy is a fun and high tech program. The students use advanced computer skills to complete computer related assignments. Dealing with the computer softwares they use gives the students unique opportunities to learn about complex systems. Although they use computers, they also write essays and papers of all sorts. Media Academy is a class in which students can explore the wonders of English and history while exercising their computer skills. Media Academy is an intriguing class as most classes are at Alameda High School.

Do you think you'll continue media academy in your next years of high school? Yes, I think I will because I like dealing with computers.

TECH-KNOWLEDGEABLE

:TECH AIDE

Ms.Lopez

While some of you may not know, our school has undergone some serious mishaps with the AUSD Network System after the crash at the end of last year. In order to pull this Digital High back in order, our Tech Aide class has been a prime source of assistance. Thanks to these very few students, they can get a problem fixed in no time for any teacher in need, whether the problem be with a printer, a frozen screen, or even a hard-drive that needs to be replaced. These students are trained to solve it and put the school back on track no matter what. Asked why she enjoys training and supervising the tech aides, Ms. Lopez says, "I like to work with students who are highly motivated and eager to assist with any technology challenge. Even with all the network challenges, the Tech Aides still maintain an optimistic view and positive attitude."

Junior Henry Chen and Ms. Lopez discuss the on-going network problem that's been causing the computers to crash throughout the school.

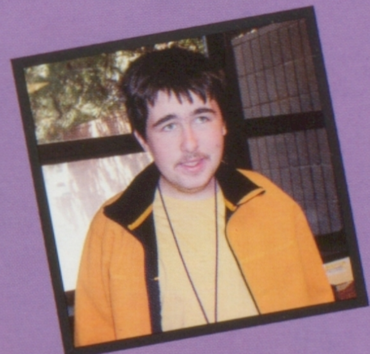
Junior Ben Tong searches for the missing cables to fix the network problem in the computer lab.

Junior Anna Maria Vincencio fixes the printing problem by plugging in new cables in the back of the computer.

Sophomore Michael Rack fixes a computer that has been broken for two years.



Hardy Blackwell, Sophomore.
What exactly do you do?
"Basically, I've been in the Tech room fixing printers and testing out computers."

Junior Harrison Lam, Eddie Agron, and Evan Holloway prepare to change the old ball mouses with the new improved opticals.

Junior Eddie Agron disassembles the computer to take in for repair.

Eddie Agron, Junior

Diversity is one of the reasons that Alameda High calls itself "special." Our school's ethnic distribution breaks down as follows: 38% Asian, 32% Caucasian, 10% Hispanic or Latino, 8% African American, 8% Pacific Islander, and 4% Other. Since our school has almost 1800 students, it is hard to differentiate who is in which class. Looking back in fifty years, you'll find yourself giggling over the people you remember: the guy who sat behind you in math class, the girl who always brought cookies to share with the whole class, the teacher who gave you a hard time when you didn't turn in your homework, the other teacher who always gave you an extension on your projects and essays when you were stressed out from your other classes. Do you remember how you used to walk down the halls, clutching your textbook a little bit nervously, and just seeing those upperclassmen made you want to stop and stare in wonder? Sophomores

By definition, "sophomore" means "wise fool" and though one is reluctant to say it, it is partly true. We are a little more experienced, but we still have much more to learn and discover. Do you remember those days when you were lost in the hallways looking for your classes? We are sure that just about everyone has their stories to tell about being ridiculed and pushed around by upperclassmen. Now when we look back, we can laugh without regrets. The memories of our first steps on this campus are slowly fading into the distance, whereas SAT's and the pressure of being more independent are beginning to come into focus. Independence which means for some: applying for a job, getting a license, and thinking about what our future holds for us after high school. We have started to realize what high school is really about, and with that thought, we try to focus more on our grades, having fun, and setting goals.

Freshman year was like a year-long tour and now... we are ready!

Demitrius Omphroy flashes a cheesy smile while trying to picture himself as the main character of the book he is reading.

Freshmen

This is the class of 2008. This is the year that we, as Freshmen, get stepped on. It's only our first year of high school but that's what we get for being at the bottom rung. We still have three long years to go after this tumultuous one. Even though some of us may be pretty small, we're still the biggest class that Alameda High has ever seen. After high school, we will enter a world full of technology and knowledge with more and more jobs and opportunities of all sorts growing with us as the years go on. Currently, we live in an age of question, where we freshmen must find and decide who we are and what we are ABLE to accomplish. We will be the next class to decide the next United States president, which is crucial, given all the political posturing and confusion in the world today. We will question new concepts and new theories that will guide us into our futures...and THIS is the class of 2008.

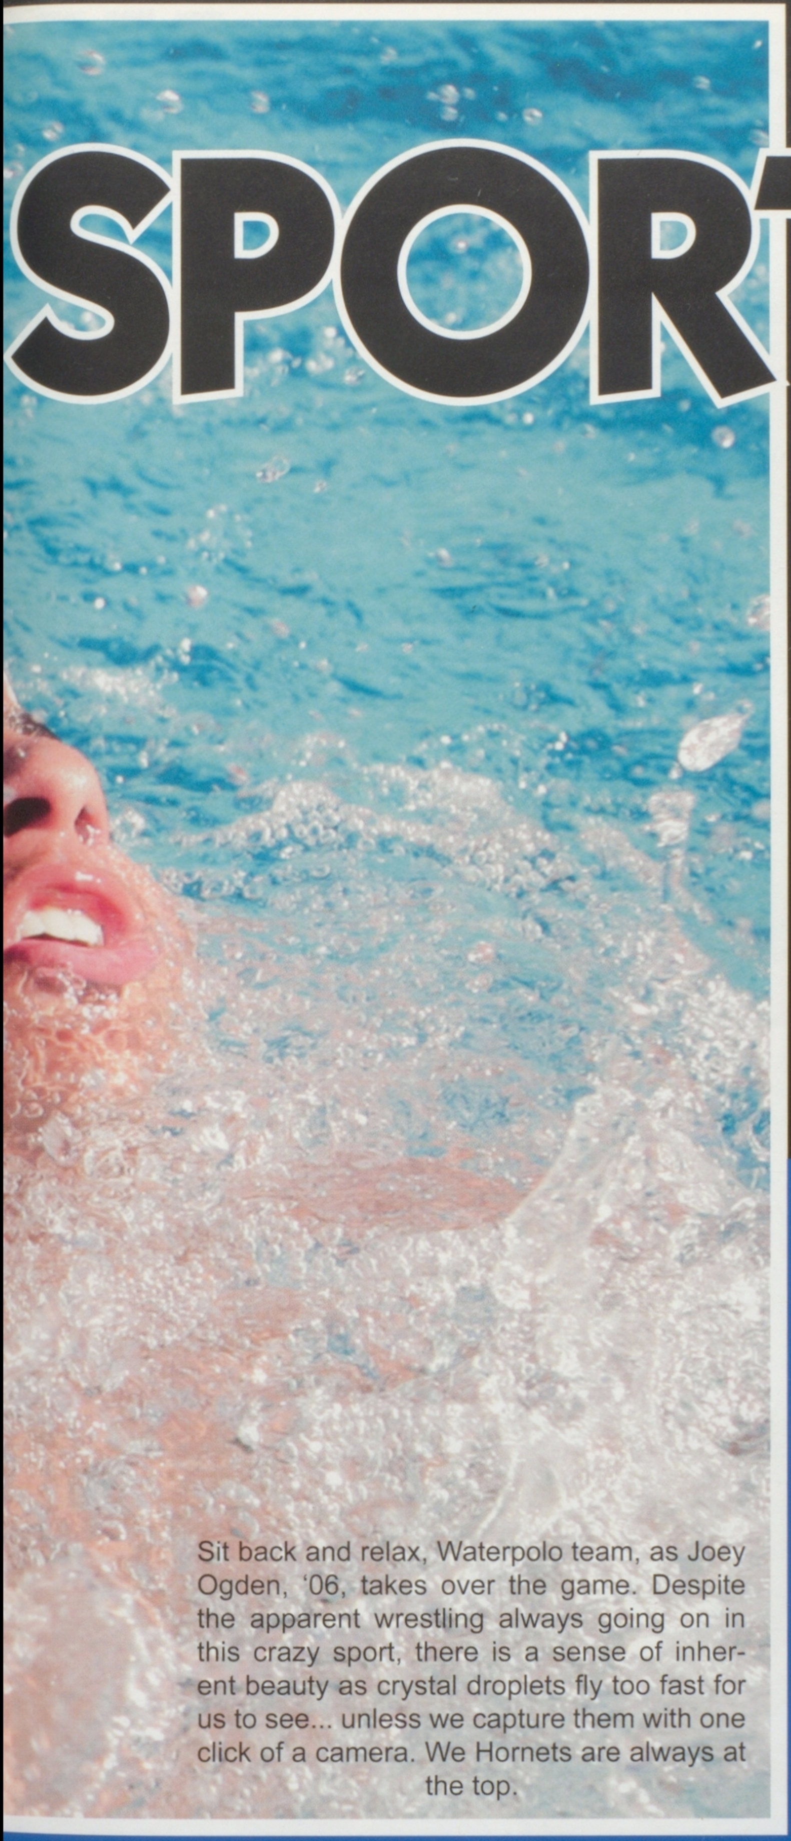
SPORTS

unstoppable

We Hornets are undefeatable, indomitable... we are inevitable champions. Keep fighting, biting, stinging, winning! Never give up... and never surrender. It's not just spirit and pride for our Alameda team, it's a pride in the way we live, and how we as Alameda High School are different from others. From badmintion to waterpolo, from the smooth courts to the damp grass, we the students and coaches know what it means to be a Hornet in the noble playing field. It is being totally insuperable, impassable... ultimately, it's just "being-the-best-able". Go HORNETS!



Sit back and relax, Waterpolo team, as Joey Ogden, '06, takes over the game. Despite the apparent wrestling always going on in this crazy sport, there is a sense of inherent beauty as crystal droplets fly too fast for us to see... unless we capture them with one click of a camera. We Hornets are always at the top.

In Memory...

Les white was born in rural Mississippi in 1938. A former coach to tennis pro Andrew Agassi, White picked up the game in 1968 while living in Portland, Oregon, where he taught high school English. Dave Fairfield, friend and former colleague of White, recruited him in 1978 to help with the Alameda High boys and girls tennis teams. He coached for love, not money, friends said, becoming a legend on local courts."He gave us all unconditional love," said one mourner. Friends recalled the "Les White tennis van," where White and students would wait out rainstorms to get back to the game. Students said White talked to them as much about life as he did about tennis. "He helped me with my ground stroke," said Joseph Tran,16. "He's a very good coach. We will all miss him."

How did Coach Les personally affect your life?

"Well, he really got me into tennis, I really started out as a beginner and he really helped me out and saw I had talent."

-Melody Morrison
Senior

"He taught me how to be stragetic, how to analyze and how to concentrate. He was very focused and always cared about how we did."

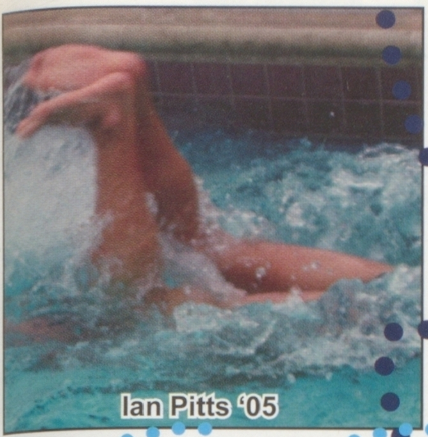
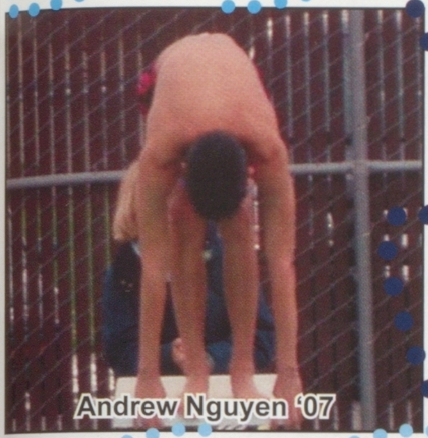
Seniors Ian Pitts and Chase Currier and Juniors Kevin Lai and Brandon Tom discuss the stats for the 2005 baseball season.

Swimming for his first year, Freshman Kenny Fellows casually swims his 100-meter backstroke event while his legs burn with pain from kicking so hard.

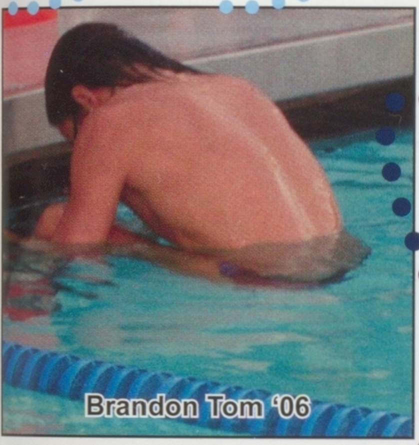
Junior Kevin Lai dominates his opponent from Arroyo High in the pool in the 100 meter breaststroke event with his perfec form.



Ian Pitts '05



Andrew Nguyen '07



Brandon Tom '06

Sophomore Glen Chan explodes off the pool wall with great force giving him a better chance at coming in first. Guess all the practice paid off.

Sophomore John Lee gets ready to dive in for the 400-meter freestyle relay anchoring for his jv relay team, finishing third with a time of 5:14:71.

What's Your Favorite Stroke?

"I like freestyle because it's my best stroke. My favorite event is the 50-meter free because the distance is shorter and it's over really fast."
- Chase Currier, Senior

"My favorite stroke is backstroke because I'm on my back and I get to look up at the sky. It's also easier to breathe."
- Ryan Dong, Sophomore

TENNIS

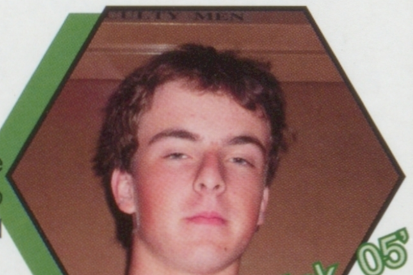
Men's Varsity and JV

Senior Tommy Tu propelled the team to a second place finish out of 72 teams in the Fresno tournament. Tommy is currently the number one player in the Boy's 18's for Northern California. Tommy has been one of the top three ranked players in Northern California most of his career and is on his way next year to USF.

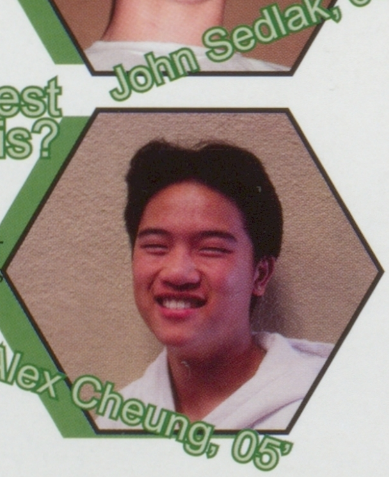
Number two singles player, Freshman Thai Tu aligns his body perfectly to achieve the correct angle for a winning shot. Thai had a stunning 5-1 win-loss record in the Fresno tournament this February, and in the Norcal rankings he is a fabulous number three!

Senior John Sedlak shows his enthusiasm and love of the game as he sets up carefully and shows that in tennis, you truly do generate your power from the bottom half of your body. As number four singles, John is known among teammates for his extremely fast and hard shots at his opponents.

What is the hardest thing about tennis?



"One difficult thing about the game is playing everday and going to practice even when you're tired and sore."



"I have trouble when Coach Hennessee yells at us and then practices usually get me tired and hungry."

Sophomore Max Tran shows us his tennis moves with the rest of the JV team on a regular team-practice day.

Coach Hennessee preps the team by discussing strategies and techniques with Sophomore #3 singles player, Eric Ramos and Freshman #1 doubles player, Matthew Elefant both of whom went un-defeated in their annual Fresno tournament.

Senior Captain Alex Chung runs back and forth over the singles court, keeping his technique perfect. Alex has been on varsity tennis all four years of high school, and won numerous ACCAL awards in doubles.

Junior Joe Tran shows his excitement after completing a smashing volley. Joe went to Fresno with the team, and is known on the team for his good attitude and exuberance as he plays and enjoys this sport.

Freshman Westyn Scott bends down effortlessly to scoop up the difficult shot. Westyn was very successful in Fresno as number two doubles with his partner Stephen Zimmerman.

What is the hardest thing about tennis?

"The pressure of having to win big matches as number one."
-Tommy Tu, Senior

"Trying not to let my emotions get in the way of my playing, so far I'm trying, but I've already been in two confrontations."
-Stephen Zimmerman, Junior

Westyn Scott and Raymond Zhang

TRACK & FIELD

Men's and Women's

"During warm-ups, we run two to three laps around the track. Then we do stretches, focusing on the hamstring. We then go into drillings, which helps to increase our strength and stamina. When we go into events, hurdlers do separate stretches intended for them while jumpers do entirely different warm-ups ."
- Junior Evan Holloway

Track members keep their pace as they advance to the finish line.

Nothing beats a lil' chillaxin' time in the shade.

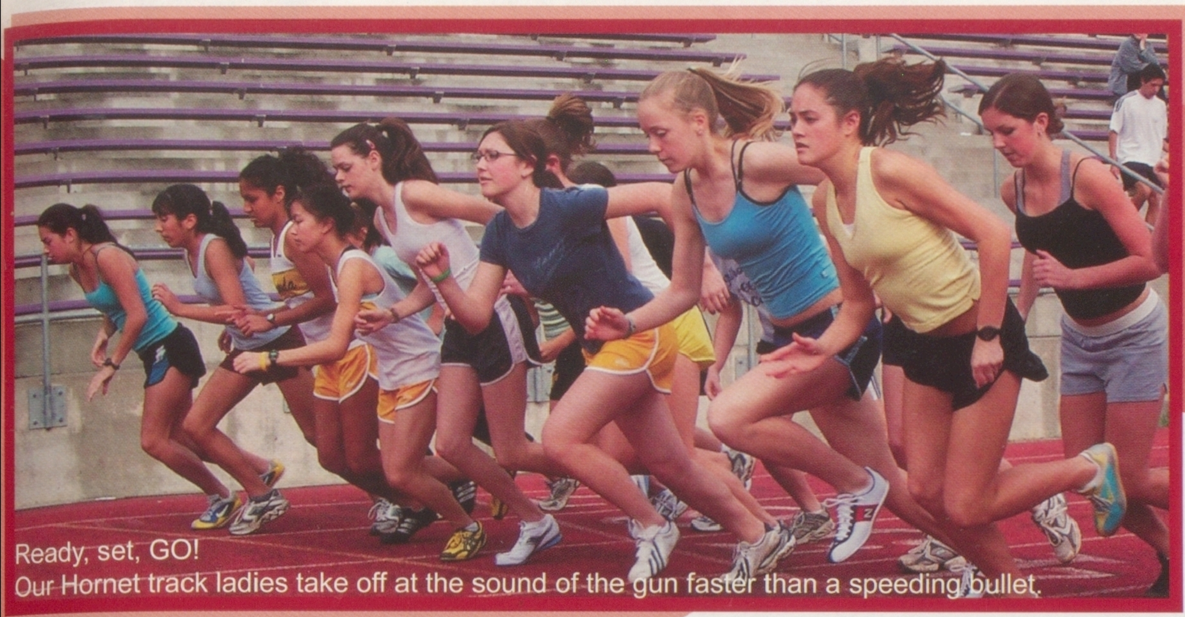
Swinging those disci aren't as easy as it might seem. Senior Kenny Boothby does it easily by swinging it as hard as he can.

Is he trying to signal us something? Senior Zach Vickers gives us a sign as he does a high jump over the pole with everything he's got.

Peace up, A-Town! Sophomore Dajon Green throws up a peace sign as he does a high jump without struggle.

Freshman Ferisa Mesanovic swings the heavy discus with determination to beat the rest of her opponents.



Ready, set, GO!
Our Hornet track ladies take off at the sound of the gun faster than a speeding bullet.

Junior Evan Holloway does a jump over the hurdle.

Senior Brittany Hodill does a superb high jump over the pole.

Senior Ben Mahon runs towards the finish line with confidence and determination.

Freshman Yomna Bahdr

Tired and exhausted, Senior Marty Skeels still manages to make it to the finish line.

Senior John Dang, ahead in the line, makes sure his opponent doesn't pass him.

What's the hardest part about track?

"Its hard only if you're not in check of what you're doing."
- Davian Munroe, Junior

"There's a lot of pressure on your ankles when you run, so regaining leg muscle is hard."
- Garret Jay, Freshman

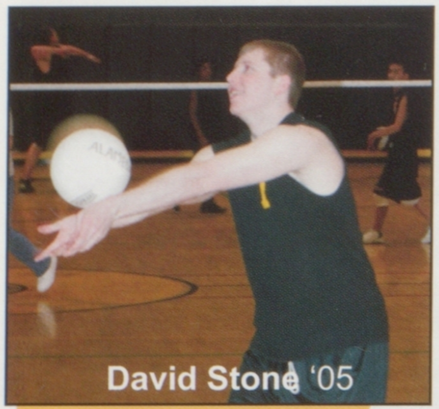
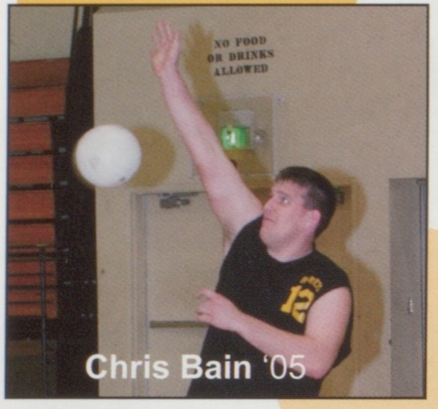
VOLLEYBALL

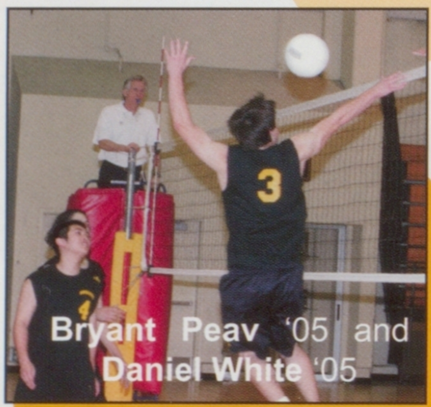
Men's Varsity and JV



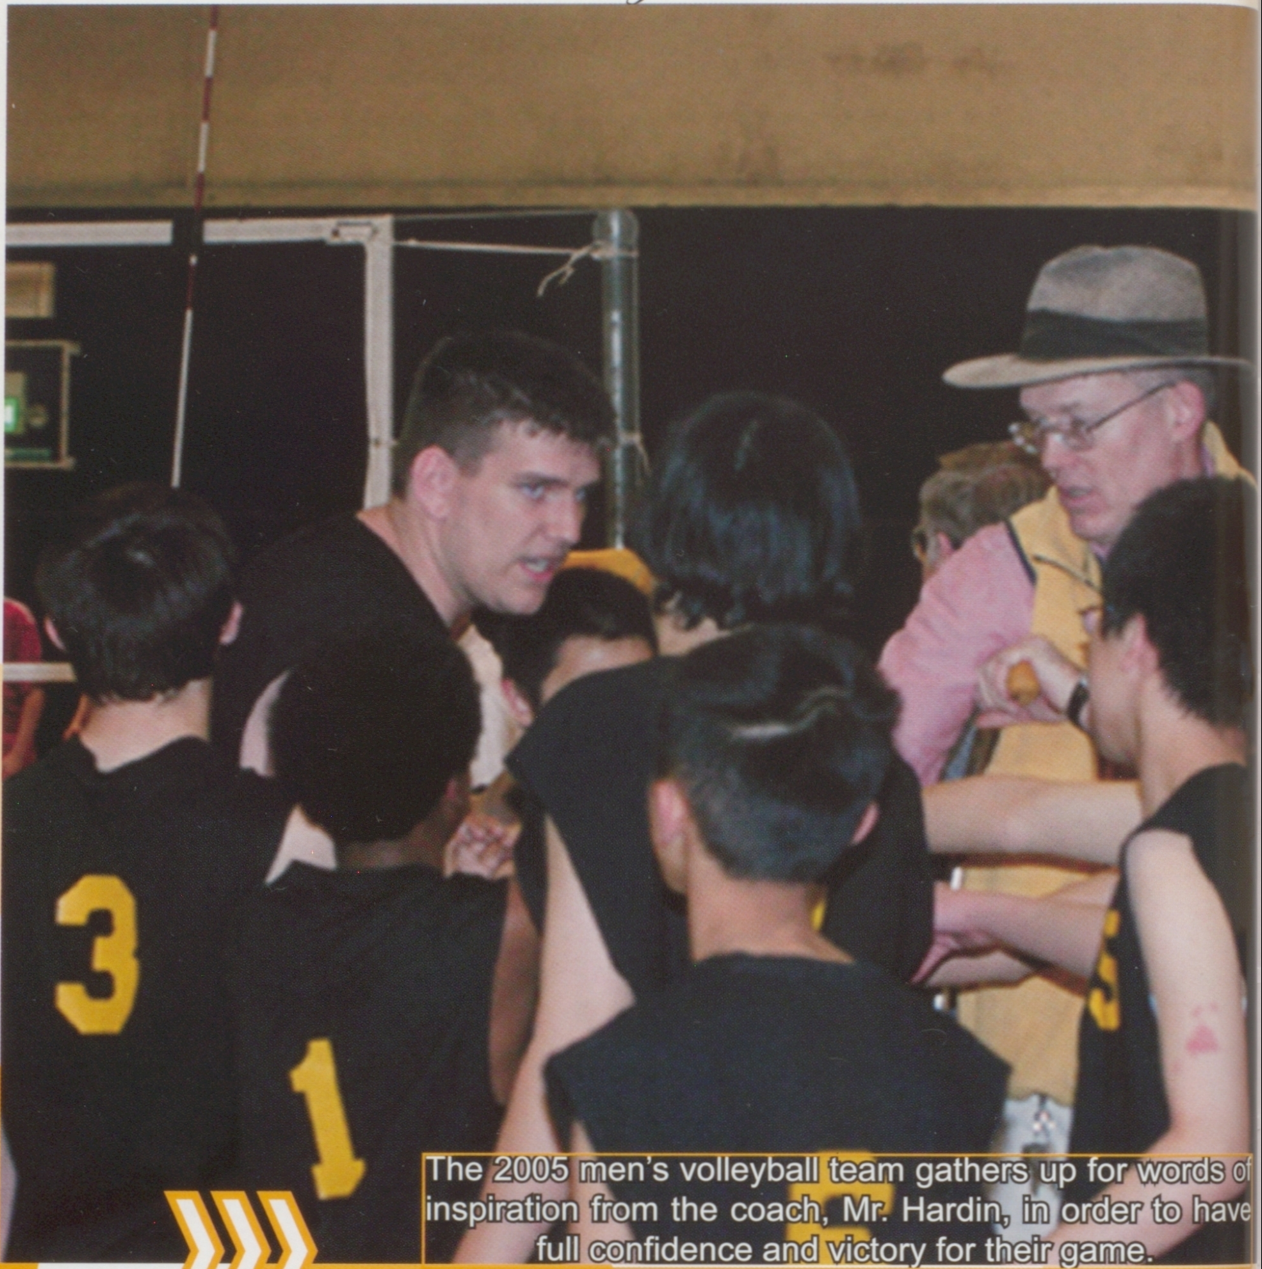
David Stone '05



Chris Bain '05

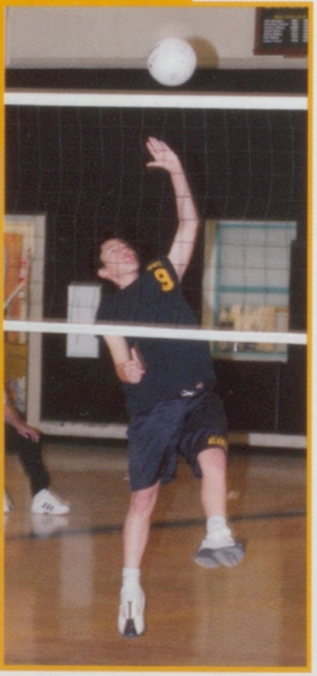


Bryant Peav '05 and Daniel White '05



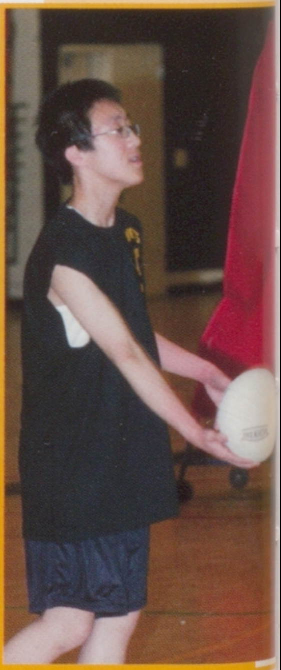
The 2005 men's volleyball team gathers up for words of inspiration from the coach, Mr. Hardin, in order to have full confidence and victory for their game.

Marwin Ko '08 jumps up in the air in order to spike the ball to the opposite team.



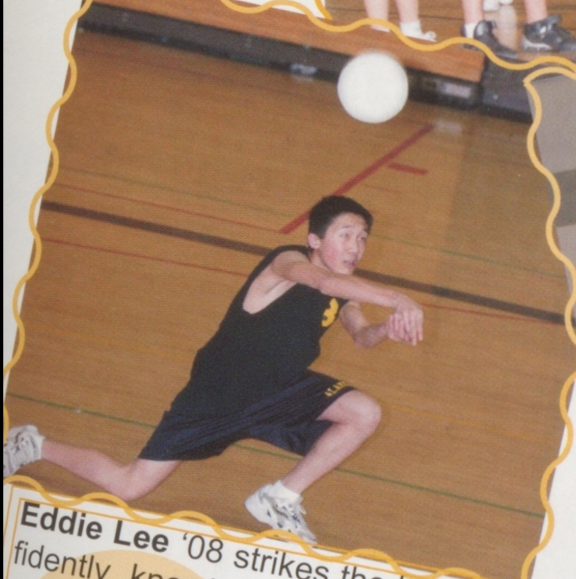
Jeremy Wood '08 fixes his attention on the volleyball so that he will make a perfect pass to his teammates.

Lawrence Loo '05 is eyeing his target on the other side in order to give the perfect serve.



All the players gather up together to talk out a strong strategy for victory.

Eddie Lee '08 and Tony Beitia '06 are giving all their attention to the spiked ball.



Eddie Lee '08 strikes the ball confidently knowing that the hit will defeat their opponents.

Marwin Ko '08 and Daniel White '05 keep an eye on the ball just in case it goes over while Chris Bain '05 blocks the hit.

Chris Bain '05 forcefully strikes the ball upward to the other side.

Anthony Pham '07 concentrates on where the ball is going to land on his arm.

Left: Marwin Ko '08 focuses deeply on the ball so that he can make a powerful hit and with luck earn a point for his team.

Right: Anthony Pham '07 lunges in order to bump the ball to his other teammates.

Why did you choose to play Volleyball?

"I chose to play volleyball because my parents played it and I've been playing almost all my life."
-David Stone, Senior

"I wanted to play this sport because it's a fun, exciting, and my a lot of my friends play as well."
-Eddie Lee, Freshman

Island Bowl

Alameda vs Encinal

Renee Clerk
'73

Renee, former varsity cheerleader, recalls winning all the football games.

Benjamin Reid
'96

Ben used to be a varsity player for AHS, he remembers almost getting suspended before a big game.

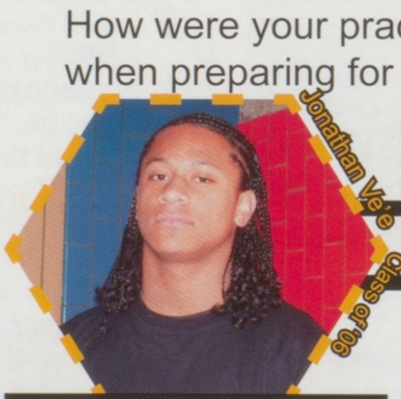
Mark Gillman
'74

Mark says things are still the same since '74. The games are still packed with spirited crowds and AHS is still undefeated.

2004 Island Bowl Champions
Alameda 50, Encinal 36

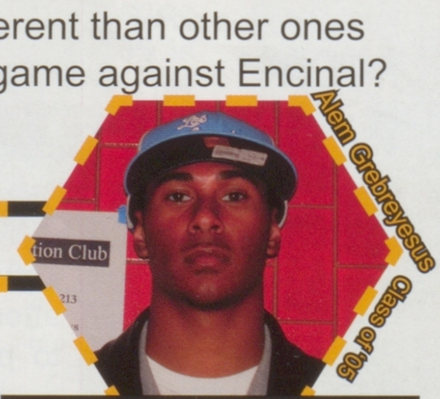
The Alameda Hornets proudly pose with their official, "The Alameda Chamber of Commerce Perpetual Trophy."

How were your practices different than other ones when preparing for the 50th game against Encinal?



Jonathan Ve'e
Class of '06

Varsity

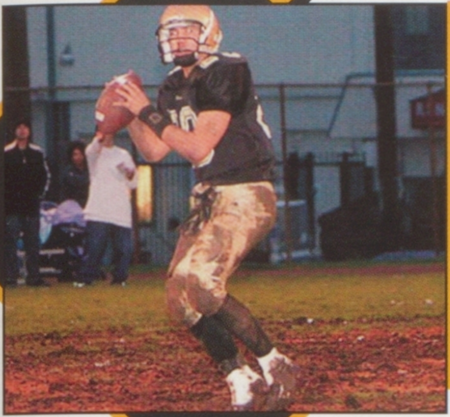


Alem Grebreyesus
Class of '05

"Practices went up for up to 30 minutes extra, and we had to increase our hitting levels."

"The practices were more intense and we had to do more running and hitting drills."

Dajon Green runs from one of the rival players, trying to score a touch down for his JV team.



JV player Blake Reno is all clear to throw the ball to a teammate in order to win the game.

JV player Daniel DeWitt stops an Encinal player from scoring points by tackling him .

The Varsity Hornets look focused on tackling players from the opposite team.

Number 48 Jonathan Ve'e tackles his oponent while number 52, Justine Marceline, runs to back him up.

The Island Bowl was the 50th meeting between the two cross-town rivals, The Alameda Hornets and the Encinal Jets. As you can see above, a very spirited crowd came out to support our Hornet team. This year at the Island Bowl, many players and cheerleaders who graduated from Alameda high several years ago also attended the game. This game was one of the biggest games of the season because, after 50 years of playing against each other, Alameda proved that they can't be defeated by Encinal.The varsity football players smashed the Jets by a score of 50 to 36. The two team's total was also an Island Bowl record of 86 combined points and a whopping 800+yards of combined offense. The jv players killed the Jets 20 to 0. They carried their undefeated record home to close the season at Thompson Field. This game marked the last game for the league-dominating squad of 2004-2005.

VARSITY PLAYERS

How was this game different from the other games?

"It was wired because we grew up with the people we were playing against and it was a friendly game, but at the same time they were also our rivals."
-Xavier Miller, '06

"It was different than the other ones because it was about who gets the better statics, bragging rights and which team is the best team in the island."
-Justine Marceline, '06

CLUBS remarkable

With a listing of over 50 clubs, Alameda High offers something for everyone. These clubs range from community service clubs, such as Key Club and Red Cross, to cultured clubs, like the Black Student Union (BSU) and Korean Youth Association (KYA), to academic clubs, such as the French Club and California Scholarship Federation (CSF). Not only are these clubs exciting ways to meet new people and spend time with friends, but they also offer a wonderful environment to learn about how to make or raise money during both the Harvest and Spring Food Fairs and other individual club fundraisers. Some students even find themselves with multiple clubs on one day, which can be easily solved if one is truly dedicated to those clubs. With such a selection, how do you choose?

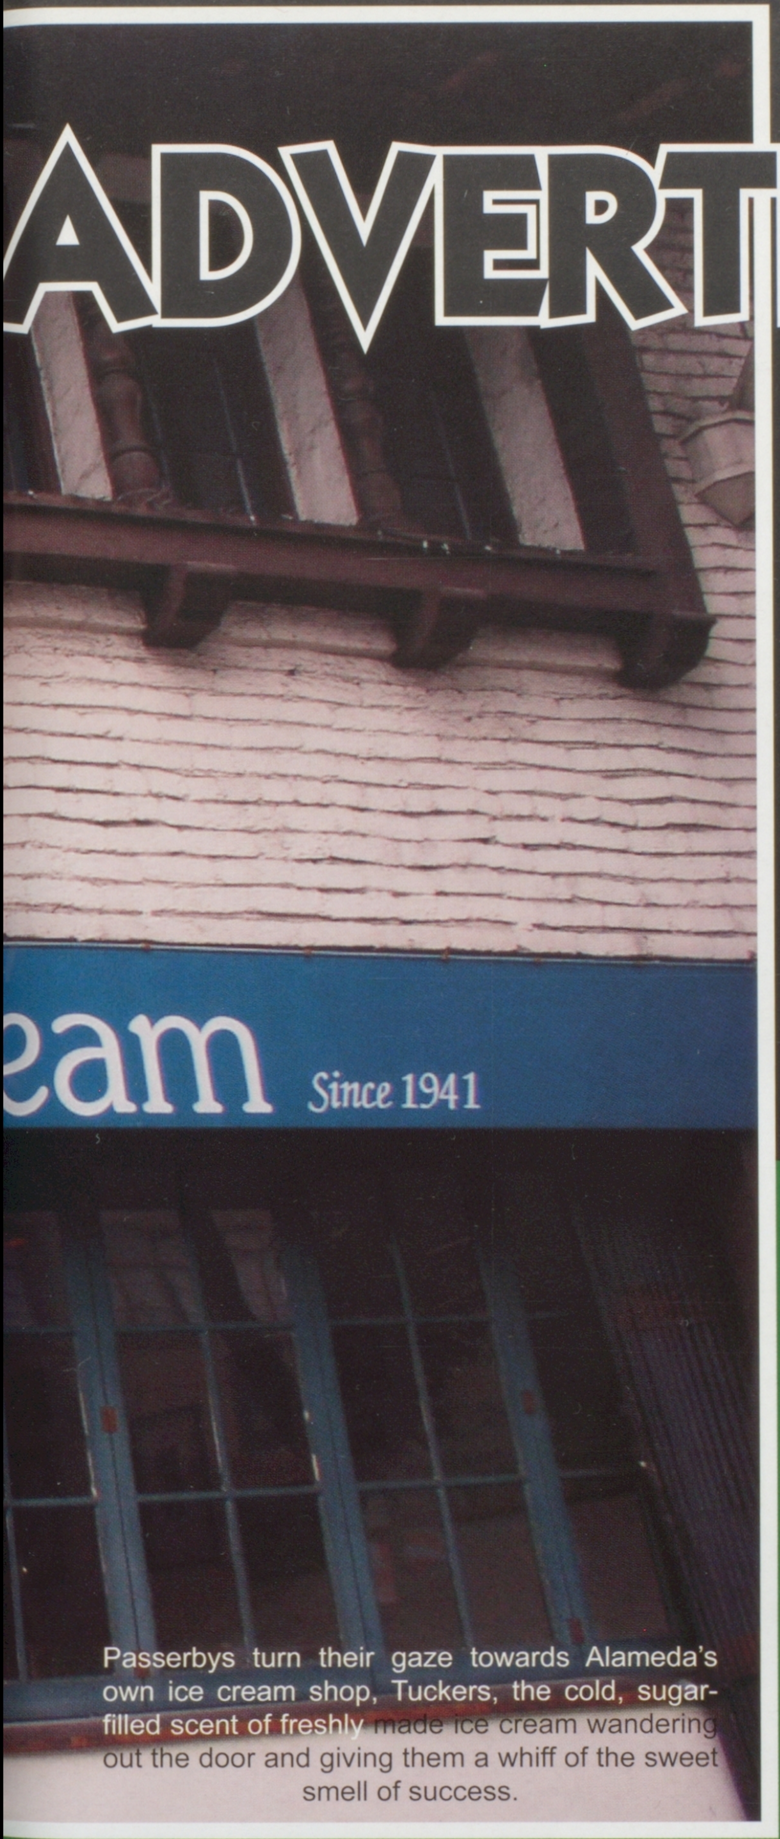
ADVERTISEMENTS

irreplaceable



Passerbys turn their gaze towards Alameda's own ice cream shop, Tuckers, the cold, sugar-filled scent of freshly made ice cream wandering out the door and giving them a whiff of the sweet smell of success.

Everyone knows that the yearbook would be nothing without those memory-filled ads in the back of the book! Upon entering high school, many students cannot wait to be Seniors, just to be able to make a special place in the yearbook where they can look back on with their friends, one, five, ten, even fifty years from now. Before this year, many students looked and marveled at those black-and-white ads, missing the life that only color photos can provide. And now, this year's Seniors are the proud owners of Alameda High's first-ever color ads! Businesses are in on this history-making phenomenon as well. Can't wait to buy your own ad? Well, you're going to have to, that is, unless you are a Senior.

Raquel, My sleeping beauty

The day you were born I knew you were special and that our life would be forever changed. You have brought so much joy to my life. I have watched you become a wonderful, intelligent, independent, strong, loving, and responsible young lady. You can achieve anything you set your mind to. Dream BIG! Enjoy your youth as you plan and work towards your future. I will love you forever!

AGE 17

I can FINALLY say that I'm glad to be a graduate of Alameda High School! There were many obstacles for me to overcome this year, as far as work. But at the end, I can say that I have prospered, and did what was needed to graduate. Being a senior taught me how to be more responsible, and how to conduct myself in away that is pleasing to others, as well as myself. The year is over, and I'm ready to make that step to a higher level of education. (Aight then to ery' body)

Valuable Memories

In September, 2004 Chechen separatist terrrorists herded approximately 200 school children, teachers, and parents into the gym and detonated a bomb. Luckily, about 50 kids were able to escape.

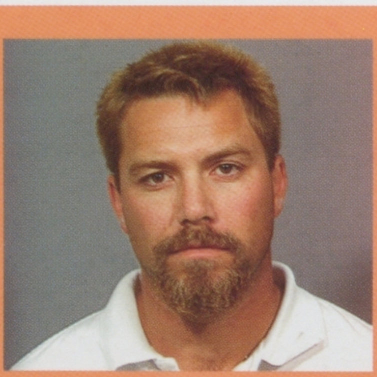
Ukrainian President Viktor Yushchenko was poisoned while running for office. His poisoner used dioxin, which severely disfigured his skin, and, while never proven, his opponent is suspected.

Jamie Foxx won Best Actor at the Oscars for his performance in the tear-jerking Ray.

Punk princess Ashley Simpson looked more like Homer Simpson when she was caught lip-synching on Saturday Night Live.

After working at Alameda High for five years, with a career in teaching of about 45 years, Karen Harrington received Walmart's California Teacher of the Year award for her excellence in connecting while teaching her many math students each year.

AHS won Wild 94.9's highly coveted free concert by rap star Fabolous. The school was proud and excited to host the concert, but new principal, Mike Janvier, abruptly cancelled the concert due to concerns about obscene lyrics and lack of a proper venue.



Scott Peterson's trial for the murder of his wife, Laci, and their unborn son, Conner, who went missing on December 24, 2002, began on June 1, 2004. He was sentenced to death for the murders on December 13, 2004.

A 9.0 magnitude earthquake hit and destroyed the buildings and homes of Indonesia's Sumatra Island. The earthquake then led to a series of tsunamis, which resulted in approximately 100,000 deaths.

Yankee and Cardinal fans alike mourned the death of the Curse of the Bambino, which started when the Boston Red Sox traded Babe Ruth to the New York Yankees. The curse was alive and well from 1918 until 2004. It was broken when the Red Sox beat the St. Louis Cardinals in the 2004 World Series in a shutout 4-0.

This year's We Share fundraising for people in need started with a goal of $3,000, which the Hornets surpassed with a total of $4,195.59.

George W. Bush was able to do what his father had not twelve years prior, and get re-elected as President of the United States.

2004-2005's Yearbook staff has been one of the best ever; we had enthusiasm, dedication and talent pouring in from all corners. With a larger Freshman staff than usual, the young ones were fun and many showed good talent; we hope they'll stay through the years. Editor-in-Chief Jessica Woo stepped into her new role with aplomb and became a boss the class liked and trusted, a trait critical for leadership. She has been a terrific right hand-woman for me as she intuited her responsibilities and carried them out without being told what to. Huge thanks, Woo! Many thanks also to Zhang for his artistry and generosity with his time. Thanks to all for a good year!

This year has definitely been an adventure, but a wonderful one! At the beginning, I was a little hesitant since I had never been put in charge of such a huge staff or responsibility, but it turned out wonderful, with the help of all the staffers. I want to thank Marisa and Sarah for working so hard and always being willing to help with whatever needed to be done. I would also like to thank Ray so much for doing so much work extremely vital to the making of the book each deadline. I hope that all the Seniors had a memorable time in class this year, and you will all be missed next year! See everyone next year!

Watch out! Jesse Prins has the winning hand.

John Lee, you're just too hot for us.

Kaitlin Lewis quickly picks up her balloon during the relay.

Helen Park and Haley Hayes run backwards around the chairs during the relay.

(1) Jeff Roeder, in a DKNY jacket, you are so stylish. (2) With the light shining on them like the true angels they are, Melissa Lim, Rachel Cortes and Liana Choi looks through an old yearbook looking at past faces.

(3) Annie Lam and Estephania Reyes give a quick laugh as they quickly look over a page. (4) Devious Will Matteucci guards his card house with care.

FROSTING FIGHT!

What would a year of Yearbook be like without the oh-so-popular frosting fight? (1) This year, Marisa Sum sent the first smear across the face of the Jessica Woo at the deadline 1 party. (2) Poor Westyn Scott, a once innocent bystander soon became a target of the sugary "sisters". (3) Miss Veronica Flores, so you thought you were safe, eh?
